

Stewardship Calendar Activity

Make a copy of the calendar for each member of your Corps

Instructions:

The calendar activity will help you to recognize items that you have been blessed with and in return give you the opportunity to give back. For example: for Thursday the calendar could indicate you will count how many windows you have in your home, it will assign an amount per window you should set aside. Every day of the week the calendar will have new instructions and a chance to set money aside. At the end of the week you collect all the money for all the activities and take it to the Corps as an offering.
